"Bartronics India Limited becomes India's first RFID Company to be certified by ICAR"

The International Committee for Animal Recording (ICAR) has approved the samples submitted by Bartronics India Limited and certified their conformity with the code structure and technical concepts given in ISO 11784 and ISO 11785. Bartronics is the only Indian company to have got the certification. Other global companies whose RFID tags are also certified include Texas Instruments, Nedap and Saint Gobain.

The certification will enable Bartronics to bid globally for animal tagging applications which is projected to reach US$7 billion in 2017 by IDTechEx. In India, a number of state governments are considering compulsory tagging of livestock where ICAR certification is mandatory. The first phase of implementation of RFID based animal identification in India will kick-start during 2009.

This is for your information and record.

Thanking You,

Yours faithfully,
For BARTRONICS INDIA LIMITED
